

PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release 10th May 2013

Witherby Publishing Group wins award as one of the Best Workplaces in Scotland.

Livingston based specialist publisher of marine training, reference and regulatory materials, Witherby Publishing Group has won an award for being one of the best places to work in Scotland.

Witherbys was among nine shortlisted businesses in the small business category (20-74 employees), and was given a podium finish in 3rd place. The award was given to the company at Scotland's Best Workplace award ceremony in Glasgow's Grand Central Hotel on 9th May 2013. Judges selected Witherbys for the award as they were impressed with the responses from the employees, who saw the company as having an open and approachable management style, a flat structure that led to better communications, felt involved with the business and its strategy and growth, trusted the directors and were proud of the work that the company's charitable trust is doing.

Managing Director Iain Macneil, who accepted the award, said "It's a great to receive this award on behalf of the company. We believe that by creating a 'great place to work', our company is stronger and more successful. We all want to reach the company's goals and objectives together."

The award contributes to a successful and exciting year for Witherbys. The company was recognised by the UK publishing industry when, in March, Witherbys were shortlisted for the Specialist Consumer Publisher of the Year award from the Independent Publishers Guild. Last month the company saw record sales of its latest edition of 'Passage Planning Guide – Malacca and Singapore Straits', a publication vital to many of the ships that use one of the busiest and congested seaways in the world.

About: Witherby Publishing Group

Witherby Seamanship has been involved in producing, protecting and publishing eBooks for more than 10 years, and it is calculated that there are over 300,000 Witherby Seamanship eBooks in use today. WPG publishes for the industry bodies OCIMF, SIGTTO, SKULD, IACS and ITOPF.

The roots of Witherby Publishing Group can be traced to 1740 in London, around the time that 'Lloyd's List', one of the world's oldest running journals, was first published at Edward Lloyds Coffee House. Witherbys early business included the preparation of contracts between merchants and owners of ships and the insurance clauses associated with them. 272 years later, the company still supplies insurance clauses to the commercial marine market. Witherby Publishing Group is looking forward to celebrating its 275th birthday in 2015.

About: Great Place to Work Institute UK

The Great Place to Work Institute UK is part of the world's largest consultancy specialising in workplace assessment and enhancement. Every year Great Place to Work® surveys some 6,000 organisations around the world representing around 10 million employees. This gives us unrivalled insight into what makes an organisation's employees tick and how leaders can improve their business performance by understanding and improving their workplace culture.

For further information contact:

Clare Barron
Sales & Marketing Manager
Witherby Publishing Group
Tel: +44 (0)1506 463 227
clare@emailws.com

Helen Wright
Marketing and Communications Manager
GREAT PLACE TO WORK®
Davenport House, 16 Pepper Street,
London E14 9RP
Direct line: +44 (0) 207 510 9659
Switchboard: +44 (0) 870 608 8780
E: helen.wright@greatplacetowork.com